Congo Sunday School Training

ECM is committed to providing training for Sunday School teachers in Congo.

Congo Sunday trainers are spread over a wide geographical area, and it is difficult for ECM to monitor activity and to support the teachers in their work. Recently, all trainers came together for several days of advanced training and encouragement, but it is apparent that it would be better to do localized training in particular geographical areas. This annual training would focus first on Kinshasa, and in subsequent years would move to other areas of the country.

Our goal is to raise $4,400 for the first of these annual trainings, to be held in 2020.
